- Ensure the establishment of non-discriminatory student selection procedures which encourage fair access for members of underrepresented groups.
- Ensure access and equity issues are considered during curriculum development.
- Ensure the requirements of individual learners are accounted for in the strategic and operational planning processes.
- Provide learners with the opportunity to be involved in the planning and decision-making processes on matters that affect them.

Mid City College recognizes that equity and diversity considerations and initiatives go beyond extending a helping hand to the 'disadvantaged' and responding to legislative imperatives. Fair and equitable access to Vocational Education and Training (VET) can assist all Australians to gain meaningful employment and participate in the economic and social life in their community. This policy is a mechanism to demonstrate Mid City college commitment to State and National equity legislation and policy requirements including:

- Disability Discrimination Act (1992) Commonwealth
- Sex Discrimination Act (1984) Commonwealth
- Racial Discrimination Act (1915) Commonwealth
- National Strategy for the Education of Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander People 1996 – 2002

6. Equity:

Equity essentially means 'fairness'. In the VET context, it means that people are provided with the opportunity to access, participate, and successfully achieve outcomes. Underpinning the principles of equity is the recognition by Mid City College:

- That it is common for people to identify with more than one equity group.
- Of the differences between and between equity groups.
- That each equity group does not experience the same type of disadvantage; and
- There remain many common systemic barriers for equity groups.

7. Diversity:

Diversity recognizes that many factors influence the ability of people to participate and succeed in vocational education, training, and employment, including:

- Prior educational experience
- Cultural diversity
- Language and/or learning styles
- Goals and expectations
- Work and social experiences
- Gender
- Values and beliefs
- Religion
- Income
- Age
- Geographic location

This policy aims to address the requirements of all potential and actual learners, seeking to participate in training with Mid City College including specific equity groups such as:

- Women

- Indigenous Australian peoples
- People with a disability
- People from non-English speaking backgrounds

Beyond these groups, and in recognition of diversity, Mid City College aims to respond to the needs of the local community, for example:

- Young and mature people.
- People in transition from institutions.
- Socioeconomically disadvantaged people; and
- People with family responsibilities

Implementation of this policy requires equity and diversity considerations to be embedded into all aspects of Mid City college planning and operations.

This may be demonstrated by the development and implementation of strategies for specific equity groups as required by National and State agendas. And where strategies do not exist, the diversity of client/learner needs may be addressed through planning areas such as:

- Resource allocation.
- Support personnel.
- Staff training.
- Curriculum product development and delivery.
- Marketing and promotion; and
- Research

Mid City College will monitor and review its equity performance to:

- Comply with national and state legislation and policies.
- Meet national and state reporting requirements; and
- Modify and improve performance to better achieve access, equity, and diversity objectives

8. Making a Complaint:

All Students/Learners have the right to object to discrimination and harassment in any form, and to complain when such discrimination takes place. For full information a grievance process please refer to the Complaints and Appeals Policy and procedure available.
